

Your HSA: A savings tool for today, tomorrow and through retirement

Did you know that you can invest a portion of your Voya HSA's balance once it reaches a specific cash threshold.¹? This is an important option to consider if you're exploring savings strategies for healthcare costs in retirement.

Here's why:

The average American couple is expected to need approximately $296,000 to cover out of pocket healthcare costs in retirement.² An HSA can be a great tool to help you accumulate savings on a tax-advantaged basis to pay for out-of-pocket medical expenses. When you invest the funds in your HSA, you give your money a chance to grow.³

Invested vs. Saved

Here's how much of a difference it potentially could make if you invested an annual contribution of $7,300⁴ vs. simply saving it:

For illustrative purposes only. Assumptions: 30-year investment timeframe; annual contributions of $7,300; 6% annual return on investment; Interest compounded annually; 0% return on cash; no withdrawals. This hypothetical example does not represent the performance of any particular investment and is not a guarantee of future results. The illustration does not consider investment fees or expenses that would lower performance. Actual rates of return will fluctuate.

¹Investment threshold is determined by your employer. Check the investment summary page on the Voya HSA website to find your specific threshold amount.

There are two ways you can invest a portion of your HSA balance: automatic transfer or manual transfer

Automatic Transfer

When you establish an automatic transfer, HSA dollars will be automatically moved to and from your investment account based on a frequency you determine. The transferred amount is then allocated to the investments you've chosen. You can update for preferences, realign your portfolio or update your allocations at any time.

Manual Transfer

To manually move HSA dollars to and from an investment account, you can initiate a one-time transfer.

For each transfer you will select the account, the amount you want transferred, and the allocation to specific mutual funds.
